Hello my name is Chris and I'm the owner of Wildrovers 4x4, a company dealing with spare parts and accessories for Land Rover. For quite a long time we have been looking for a team that will supply to our needs on a tight timeline and work with budgets. I was quite pleased when one of my workers introduced me to Dimitar and the whole team of Accent-D, they are very professional in the matter of solving problems, which some people claimed impossible. If you want to set up a online shop or a home page, Mitko and his team are the people to call!
